

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION

Wednesday, July 15th, 11:00am – Virtual Presentation

Presentation by Chuck Miller – Certified Construction Arbitrator / Mediator

It is virtually impossible to complete a construction project of any size without a few disputes developing. Most are minor, but some may be of more importance involving greater amounts of money. How well you are prepared to handle disputes may very well determine whether you will make a profit. Litigating construction cases is extremely expensive. Even the smallest of construction cases with the most cost-conscious legal counsel will run $300,000. The cost of litigation often forces contractors and owners to settle meritorious claims not based on entitlement, but because of attorneys' fees. Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) describes the common methods of ADR, their benefits, and how to incorporate ADR provisions in your contracts.

SEND RESERVATIONS TO HEATHER – HHOUGLANDER@BCASWI.ORG

Name(s): _____

Company: _____

Email: _____

Contact Phone #: _____

**Brought to you by the BCASWI Sales & Marketing Council / Education****

Ask me how to join Sales & Marketing Council!